Illusion:

Different type of literature available time to time. It is forced since beginning of 20th Century during discussion of modern culture. Some people see modernization is a result of development & constant modern thoughts.

Anumodernization have special characteristic in references of Place& language. Dalit naval katha mint for human pain, suffering problem & feeling. Writer use “ language “ as main source to create real chrracteristics of lead actor. He do not describe it as artificial or fashionable trend but as unavoidable character. Dalitvad is the main honoree. Dalit litrrature is the key to promote Anu Adhuniktavad in Gujarati literature.

Special characteristic of speech, character, environment & types of speech create harmony between different character. Such type of special character gives this literature as key factor in Gujarati literature. Dalpat Chauhan received such honour in Dalit Naval Katha. Kishor Singh Solanki have also follow this trend in his Naval Katha. Both Sahityakar's main focus on various problem of society of Dalit, down prodan & exploited people.

Co relation of Society, Economic & religion can be established by detail study by Dalit & Bin Dalit Gujarati writer. Dalit writer closely monitor each movement of this Dalit society & they became part of it so they are in better position to explain particular topic. Reader experience of designated place, dresses, atmosphere, language, behavior, culture, tradition language etc.

Such type of research have not take place at an international level. This research is unique at international level because there is hardly any research on Gujarati Dalit Society at international level till date.

Lots of work on Dalit awareness have been done in various languages of other region of India. Even in Gujarati language also, lots of work has been done. I just want to add something on it by my writing. I am sure, coming generation will get ideas & inspiration from it. How this literature is different from earlier literature will also clarify by this study.

This study will encourage reader for more reading; will develop social commitment towards this society. Coming generation will aware of special characteristic of Dalit Naval Katha.
